FUNERAL SERVICES MONDAY AFTERNOON FOR MRS. B. MARKS

PIONEER CORSICANA WOMAN
PASSED AWAY SUDDENLY
SUNDAY MORNING

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Marks, aged 74 years, wife of B. Marks, who died suddenly Sunday morning about 4 o'clock at the family home, 630 West Fourth avenue, were conducted from the home Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with interment immediately afterward in the Hebrew cemetery. The services were conducted by Rabbi Brav of Corsicana, and Rabbi Taxson of Dallas. Active pallbearers were K. Wolens, H. Rothkoff, Jake Goldman, Louis Levine, Ike Cef, Ben Goldsmith, I. Jaffe, Ike Levy, Sam Goldman, M. Pitloek. The honorary pallbearers were all close friends of the family.

Mrs. Marks was born in Russia and came to America when a girl of fourteen years. She met and was married to Benjamin Marks in New York City in 1872. Eight years after that time she came to Corsicana, where they have resided continuously since—forty-six years. Mr. Marks entered the mercantile business here soon after arriving and only a few years ago retired from the business which was taken over by his sons and is now known as Marks Brothers. During all those years Mrs. Marks was the inspiration that brought the success that attended the efforts of her husband and the children that came along later in life.

Besides her heart-broken husband, Mrs. Marks is survived by seven grown children, as follows: Mrs. Joe Epstein, Cleveland, Ohio; Alex and Abe Marks of Sherman, Harry Marks of Chickasha, Okla., Mendel, Sydney and Miss Esther Marks of Corsicana. She is also survived by one brother, I. Levy of New York City. All the children were present at the funeral services Monday afternoon except Mrs. Epstein, the daughter in Cleveland, who is herself ill and was unable to come here.

Mrs. Marks has been in ill health for a number of years and seldom left her home, but she was known to all those who knew her as being one of the purest Christian characters that they had ever come in contact with. There was never a word of complaint on account of her sufferings, and she relied upon the promises of her God with the perfect assurance that all was right with the world and that all would be right with her when the final summons came.

She took a great pride in her home and her husband and children shared with her religion in the devotion that can come only from the pure in heart and the mother who loves her husband and her children with a love that passeth understanding. Mrs. Marks was true to the religion of

ACCIDENT OCCURS AS EXCURSION TRAIN FALLS INTO RIVER

MORE THAN THOUSAND PEOPLE CROWDED ON SIX-
COACH TRAIN

By Associated Press.

San Jose, Costa Rica, March 15.—Two hundred and forty-eight persons were killed and ninety-three were injured when an excursion train on the Costa Rican railroad jumped the tracks on a bridge over the Varilla river yesterday, according to a check-up today.

Three cars at the rear end of the six-car train left the rails and plunged down a fifty-foot embankment into the river.

Those killed are believed to have been in a party on their way to Cartago, where a religious festival was in progress.

One thousand persons were on the train. The disaster is believed to have been due to overloading of the train.

All day Sunday was spent in rescuing the injured and recovering the bodies of the dead.

Medical relief work was quickly organized and efficiently carried out.

Hundreds of persons of all classes went to the scene of the disaster to help the corps of physicians and nurses brought from Limon to San Jose to attend the injured.

her fathers, and let nothing interfere with her observance of the customs and beliefs that had come down to her from the ages. She practiced her religion in her everyday life and none ever came to her for succor or consolation that went away empty handed. Truly it can be said that the world was made better for her having passed this way, and many hearts are sad and many tears have mingled with those of her heartbroken companions for fifty-four years, and children who mourn her passing.

DENIAL APPLICATION TEXAS RAILROAD BUILD ADDITIONAL MILEAGE IS RECOMMENDED

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 15.—Denial of the application of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass Railroad to construct two new lines of railroad in Texas was recommended by Commissioner Woodlock in a tentative report today to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The new lines would extend from Falfurrias, Texas, to the Mexican border and from Edinburg to Hartington, Texas.

Their cost has been estimated at $4,500,000.

They would extend a distance of 115 miles and would be operated as a part of the Southern Pacific.

The commissioner concluded his report by stating that this section is now sufficiently and adequately served by the Missouri Pacific railway.

BUMPER CROP YEAR

Prospects are indeed bright in Navarro county for a bumper crop year.

Those engaged in the agricultural industry in this section are reported well advanced with their preparations for the year's crop.

According to reports from various sections of the county the feed crop acreage has been increased.
Corn was planted from a week to ten days earlier than usual and a large per cent of it is up and growing. The rains and warm weather of the past few days are expected to bring the remainder up with very little if any loss.

Prospects for a good oat crop are the best in years and very little more rain will be needed to insure this crop.

Cotton land has practically all been prepared and planting will start soon. A considerable decrease in cotton acreage is predicted for this year but the definite figures will not be known until all feed crops, including sorghum, sudan and other hays have been planted and this will be determined by weather conditions at planting time.

A prosperous year is in the making for the farmer and when the farmer is prosperous all lines of business are prosperous. Navarro county is one of the richest agricultural counties in the state and given half a chance will produce large crops. Under the favorable conditions existing starting this year it is safe to make the prediction of record breaking crops.

LAPSED INSURANCE.

World war veterans who have permitted their insurance to lapse are urged by the government to seek reinstatement of their policies. This matter is ably presented in the following editorial from the New Orleans Daily States:

"The Veterans' Bureau is continuing its efforts to reach veterans of the World War who have permitted their insurance to lapse
and urge them to take advantage of the opportunity offered to them to revive their policies.

"It is estimated that more than $30,000,000 worth of this government insurance taken out by veterans has been permitted to lapse.
Not a few of these men as a result of their service are not in a condition of health to stand the test of a medical examination and so may never again be able to take out insurance. Even if they could they are much older and the premiums would be considerably higher than they are on their policies.

"The government is anxious to give every one of these veterans a chance to protect themselves against a mistake they will regret hereafter, and in seeking the widest possible publicity for the announcement that any lapsed policy can be renewed up to July 2. All that is required is that the men shall undergo another examination and pay two months' premium under the wartime rates.

"The policies are unusually attractive. They have loan clauses and cash surrender value. If a veteran is out of funds he can still reinstatement his policy since it may be used as collateral for the payment of premiums.

"No former soldier, especially if he has dependents, ought to fail to take advantage of the grace allowed by the government.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL WEEK

"What Texas Makes - Makes Texas" is the official slogan of Texas Industrial Week which will be observed throughout the state March 22-27. The move is sponsored by the Texas State Manufacturers Association with the co-operation of all Texas' Chambers of Commerce, manufacturers and wholesale associations, retail merchants associations, Texas newspapers and publications, civic clubs and citizens of Texas to make known the industrial development and the wonderful resources of Texas. It is a state wide movement to portray what Texas has and offers in agriculture, livestock, mining, industrial and manufacturing.

Corsicana has a large number of manufacturing plants and Navarro county is one of the largest agricultural counties in the state. Also it is one of the largest oil producing counties. Plans are now in the making and details are being worked out by the chamber of commerce, the advertising club and other organizations whereby Texas Industrial Week will be fittingly observed in this city.

It is planned to have an elaborate display of products manufactured in Corsicana on exhibition in the show windows of the downtown stores and it is expected that the various luncheon clubs will have programs in connection with the observance of industrial week. Corsicana can make a very creditable display of locally manufactured articles and the week will be interesting as well as educational.

PITCHING HORSESHOES

Horseshoe pitching, says a correspondent, is a good game. It is, but it probably will not be long.
It is being dolled up too much.

Horseshoe pitching is a poor man's version of quills. The old quill game demanded iron rings of a certain size, and a pin sunk in a circle of hard clay. The poor man couldn't afford these luxuries, but he liked the game, and he was quick to see that it could be played nicely without any more paraphernalia than chance brought him. A pair of castoff horseshoes and a peg hammered into the dirt were all he required. With this equipment the game flourished in every village and on every farm from coast to coast.

It was a good game, because it required not only exercise of arm and leg, but accuracy and co-ordination. More than that, it demanded self-control. When a shoe landed on one wing, leaped and rolled, the player had to resist the temptation to rush after it, pick it up and hurl it into the next county. It also made for politeness, since an irascible player, kidded beyond endurance, might tunk his tormentor on the head. On the other hand, it stimulated the vocabulary, and probably did as much as anything else to enrich the repertoire of the players and add new expletives to the language.

But horseshoe pitching became too popular. It was taken up by society; there ensued a demand for specially-designed shoes, manufactured courts, and seats for spectators. Professionalism crept in;
there were some who made a living by tournament playing. Pitchers developed who could throw ringers by the hour. The game is in danger. It is degenerating from a healthful exercise into a spectacle.

The recent rains were general over the county and have provided a sufficient amount of moisture to last the crops for sometime. Indications at the present are that the farmers will make bumper crops this year. Great is old Navarro and prosperity reigns supreme.

In this day and time you have to go after business. The day has passed when you could sit serenely in your place of business and wait for the trade to come to you.
ADVERTISE.

Not long before the vacationist will be sending postcards to the stay-at-homes with the stereotyped message—"We are sleeping under blankets every night."

Some of you people who are overloaded with worldly goods and who want to bring joy and pleasure to thousands of people—give a park site to the city.

The gift of a park site by some public spirited citizen would make thousands happy—the city has the money to make the necessary improvements.

There is little doubt that a junior college would receive the unanimous support of every resident of Corsicana and Navarro county.

An organization has been formed

If it succeeds a lot of adults will have to resume schooling.

Hon and Eggs.

ter comes Sunday, April 4th.

Well Known Negro Woman Died Recently

Laura Adkins, aged 67 years, a well known colored woman, living near Corsicana, died recently, leaving a large number of relatives and a host of friends among the white people who had known her for many years.

The Mother's Rest.
In memory of Grandma Russell,
who recently died in the Embouche community, and was buried in the Post Oak cemetery. We never knew how much we loved this devoted old "Mother in Israel" until she was called away.

Mother, sleep for you had grown
Weary, and had walked alone
Since your dear companion went
To the regions of content.

Doubtless you did often long
To pass on and join the song
Sung by him and others there,
In the home, so bright and fair.

Kind friends sit beside your tomb,
Some sweet flower, to bud and Bloom
When the spring-time breezes blow.

And those hills their verdure show
When mid-summer's sun shall shine,
Lo, that flower may droop and pine;

But the memory of your love
Still shall glow, like stars above.

Mother, rest! your race is run,
And your glory is begun
Good! the light, which you have bequeathed.

Faithfully your hands have wrought
How devotedly you served!
And your rest is well deserved.
Could she speak to us today
From those mansion far away,
She would say, in accents mild:
"Children, be ye reconciled."

"When you come where I have stepped,
You will wonder why you wept."

GARLAND KENT TO START OPERATION ON
K. WOLENS TRACT

Garland Kent will drill a deep test for oil on the K. Wolens tract beginning in the near future. The derrick has been erected on a 40-acre tract just north of the old test drilled by A. E. McIntyre two years ago. The test will be put down to the woodbine sands, drilling to start as early as the machinery can be placed.

Read the Sun—get all the news

OPERATIONS SLOW UP WHEN HIGHWAYS BECOME IMPASSABLE

The Penn & Windsor test at Powell is being abandoned as dry at 3,355 feet, according to information in oil circles. It is not known at this time if another test will be sunk in the Powell or Bazette area.

There is some suggestion among oil fans that another well will likely be drilled within a short time.

The Eunis area remains quiet since the water city well was tested in the hope of getting a production of oil from a sand that was found in drilling for water.

The well is practically given up as a failure so far as oil is concerned, but will be a valuable well for drinking water to be utilized by the city. It is not definitely known if the Magnolia and E. L. Smith companies will drill the test on the Eunis city lake properties. A decision will probably be made on this question within a few days, it is likely.

The recent rains with the attendant bad condition of the roads have caused a slow up in three deep operations which are being worked out for drillings.

The test on the Hames tract in Henderson county is now moving machinery into the location, the derrick having been built several days. Work of getting ready for drilling the deep test at Roane and another at Navarro is well under way. The roads have dried up during the past day or two to permit of traffic in the fields.

Kerr & Gillette will drill the well at Roane, which is located on the Slaughter tract, and DeArman Bros. and Paul Turner will drill
the Navarro test on the Eliot tract.

Announces for Sheriff.

In today's paper appears the announcement of W. T. Wilson of Rice, as a candidate for election to the office of sheriff of Navarro county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Mr. Wilson is a native Texan and has lived in Navarro county for over twenty years. He is a life-long Democrat, having always supported the nominees of the party in county, state and national elections.

Mr. Wilson has never before asked for public office, and has consented to make the race for sheriff only after having received strong solicitations from his friends all over the county. He has had experience as a peace officer, serving for a few months under Walter Hayes as deputy. He made a most envious record as a fearless and impartial peace officer.

All his life Mr. Wilson has stood for law enforcement and holds the belief that law enforcement is a matter in which all citizens are concerned. He is a man of splendid character and no man can say aught against him as a man and as a citizen.

His friends ask that you give his candidacy fair consideration, and if elected to this important office he promises to serve the people faithfully, and to zealously enforce the laws without fear or favor.

Corporation Court

Has Busy Session

Judge Mclear faced a full docket in corporation court Monday morning. One case was that of a man charged with abusive language and vagrancy. It was stated that the man grew abusive at a boarding house, and it was also alleged that he had done no work since arriving in Corsicana some time ago.

A negro man and woman are charged with severely injuring another negro woman. It is alleged that the man struck the woman in the face and that the man's wife then entered the affray and cut the negro woman severely.

Three men were docketed for alleged drunkenness, one for violating the red light traffic law, and one for exceeding the speed limit.

Four rather prominent men and young men of Corsicana were charged with fighting. The four were mixed in different affrays, however. All are expected to appear and pay for their diversion and exercise.

CHARITY FUND HAS MONEY TO LOAN ON APPROVED SECURITY

INTEREST GOES TO RELIEVE SUFFERING IN NAVARRO COUNTY

The announcement has been given out that the Charity Fund now has available from $15,000 to $20,000 to loan on approved security at a very low rate of interest. Those interested can get prompt attention by applying to either Maj. C. H. Mills or J. N. Garitty at the First National Bank.

The Charity Fund which has been in existence for a number of years, has done much in the relief of the poor and suffering humanity in Corsicana and Navarro county. The fund is perpetual and all of the interest of the loans made from same go to charity. The fund is in charge of trustees named by the late Capt. Garitty, who are giving their time in this worthy cause, and the low rate of interest charged on approved security should cause a demand for this money which is now available.

REV. PATSY HAINES TELLS OF LIFE LED AS FAMOUS CROOK

GIVES GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF CONDITIONS IN THE UNDERWORLD

Envoy Patsy Haines of the Salvation Army spoke to a fair-sized crowd at the gymnasium of the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, giving first-hand and graphic descriptions of his life as a member of the underworld, convict, criminal, pickpocket and other lines of work prior to his conversion and joining the Salvation Army, the Presbyterian church and the entering of the ministry.

He exhibited his body to the crowd of men and boys, pointing out the scars from knives, bullets and dope needles as being caused by sin.

Special religious songs were furnished by a male quartet. W. S. Goode, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., presided.

The principal speaker was introduced by Ensign McGowan of the local Salvation Army department.

In the beginning of the address the speaker pointed out that he was born in a devout Christian home and that all of the other members of his family were Presbyterians, but that from the time that he could remember, he liked to steal any thing that he could get his hands on. He stated that at the age of nine years, he ran away from his home with a crowd with hi-jackers, smart crooks and safe-crackers. He pointed out how some of the waster crooks took a liking to him and carried him to Chicago after the circus tour had been completed and educated him as a thief and an expert pickpocket.

The Rev. Mr. Haines took occasion to send a scathing denunciation against those who favor the return of light wines and beer into the United States and referred to the condition that existed when he was a lad, 11 and 12 years of age when he was in saloons with prostitutes and crooks, drinking, carousing and taking morphine and other drugs. He declared for the church member who was for the return of light wines and beer and the saloons, hell would not be hot enough for them and that those who patronize a bootlegger was as bad and filthy and base as the bootlegger.

He said that he was a dope-fiend at the age of fourteen years and that soon his life with prostitutes started the beginning of his end. He took occasion, however, to make a statement that he could look God in the face and say that he had never ruined a decent and good girl. He stated that he became under the influence of a woman in the underworld and that he could not get away from her. He said that two of the knife wounds in his body were inflicted by her after he had tried to leave her. He stated that he engaged in the counterfeiting game. He recalled one time that he lifted a very fine watch, set with diamonds, from a drunken chief of police of Cincinnati and that his first term in prison was caused by one of the men to whom he had sold hundreds of diamonds and watches who double-crossed him and turned him over to the authorities. He declared that this was only another instance that the wages of sin is death. He stated that his first prison term caused much publicity as he was a much sought-after criminal, a mere boy of sixteen. He stated that his brothers and sisters who held responsible positions were hurt and humiliated. He said that he was the youngest convict in the Ohio penitentiary. He stated that his Italian flapper was waiting for him at the door of the penitentiary when he was released, and that he soon joined the safe blowers' gang as the financial conditions were not conducive to the pick-pocket business. He later opened a saloon in Chicago and a hotel. A murder caused the closing of his place.

He stated that he was tried and sentenced to life in the Joliet prison. He reviewed the conditions in the prison and stated that in less than five years, he had made more than $25,000.00 handling whiskey and dope in the prison as the chauffeur of the warden. He said that a Salvation Army official came into the prison and talked with him even though he was hard and cursed him. He said that in more than eight years as a convict in prison, the Salvation Army official was the only person who had talked to him concerning his soul.

He referred to the times that when he was a chauffeur to the warden that he drove the prison board to underworld dives for hours at a time. He was pardoned by the governor September 4, 1913. The governor stipulated that he was to leave Illinois. He left the state for twenty-four hours and then came back to Chicago and entered his old life.

The speaker told how he was walking down a street in Columbus after some of his gang had absconded with his automobile and was attracted by a mission sign. He entered the mission and gave his heart and life to Christ and quit whiskey, dope and other vices and has never taken dope or whiskey since that time. He declared that he had been raised from the depths of vice and iniquity and was a living example of what Jesus Christ can do for a man. He stated that after he had been converted, he worked for a time at $3.50 per week washing dishes in a restaurant and later the friends who had taken an interest in him and caused him to turn from his ways of sin and vice, helped him attend the Moody institute to prepare himself for the ministry. He reviewed the agonies of quitting dope.

He referred to the work of the Salvation Army in raising funds to meet boys and men coming out of prisons and sending them to other sections of the country from which they went to prison so that they would not fall in with the same old

—and Now Tax Reduction Allowed

Effective at once, the delivered price of all Chevrolet models is reduced. Chevrolet buyers will be given the benefit of the recent tax reduction though it does not become officially operative until March twenty-ninth. Thus for the third time since the first of this year, Chevrolet emphasizes its supremacy in dollar for dollar value.

First—Reduced Prices

Early in January Chevrolet announced sweeping price reductions.

Then—The Improved Chevrolet

Shortly thereafter the Improved Chevrolet was announced at these reduced prices. Instantly it met with such an increase in popularity that it became necessary to break all previous production records for January and February.

And Now—A Further Saving

Although the reduction in automobile taxes does not become officially effective for some time, the full amount of this reduction is now passed on to Chevrolet buyers. Thus Chevrolet again emphasizes that principle of value on which it has built the greatest success ever attained by any manufacturer of modern gear-shift automobiles. Come in, see the improved Chevrolet! One ride will be a revelation!

GOVERNMENT MUST PROTECT HEALTH OF PEOPLE AVERY SAYS

WATER AND LIGHT COMMISSIONER ADDRESSES CITY MANAGEMENT STUDENTS

By Associated Press.

College Station, Texas, March 12.—The first consideration of any government should be the protection of health, C. N. Avery, water and light commissioner of Austin, told the engineering and city management students at Texas A. & M. College here.

Mr. Avery praised A. & M. College for taking the initiative step in providing a course on the training of city managers. He said that the demand for the services of trained city managers was growing fast. He explained that 350 towns and cities in the United States have discarded the alderman form of government in favor of the city manager form, with many more seriously considering a change.

"As trained men are required at the head of all big business establishments, why not use the same common sense in the administration of public affairs?" Mr. Avery asked. "In fact, the handling of a city's affairs requires more general knowledge than that of almost any other business. The first qualification of a city manager is that he have the ability to organize, and in addition to this, he must be tactful, and reasonable in the administration of public affairs."

"As the protection of property interests is secondary to the protection of public health, it is very essential that a city manager be versed in matters of sanitation and health conservation. He should be thoroughly cognizant of the methods for the production and distribution of safe water; safe milk; the construction and operation of sanitary sewer systems; garbage disposal; swimming pools; playgrounds, and the mosquito control functions of a city health department."

"These things affecting the public health of a community must be as much of the training of a city manager as knowledge of taxation, municipal law, finance, fire and police protection, and street maintenance."

"The matter of public health protection through a constitutional guarantee, has in the past in too many instances been given only superficial attention. Such policies, as well as the old-fashioned, strong arm method of administering laws, are fast going into the discard, and now every progressive town and city are including generous funds for matters of sanitation as well as mosquito control in their yearly budget."

"The fact that A. & M. College is the first college in the State to realize the crying need of trained health workers, and to take steps to meet this demand by providing courses for students in municipal sanitation and city management is only another demonstration of the progressiveness and far-sightedness of the heads of this institution. The fact that a man who has had practical experience along the line of sanitation and city management, was drafted to head this work is more evidence of the good judgment of the guardians of the welfare of this college. To my personal knowledge, no man could be better fitted for the position of professor of sanitary engineering and city management than E. V. Steel, whom you have had the fortune to have as your instructor since these courses have been made a part of the curriculum."

"The work that you are doing here fits you for the most responsible and interesting work of which I know. No longer can the operator of a water plant be a man who is a jack of all trades, but public sentiment now demands that he be a trained man, for the production of safe water. The public

LIFE SENTENCE IS VERDICT IN HIGDON CASE IN OKLAHOMA

YOUTH IS ALLEGED TO HAVE CONFESSED TO KILLING SWEETHEART

By Associated Press.

Wewoka, Okla., March 12.—Erman P. Higdon, 20 year old farm boy, was found guilty of first degree murder by a jury in District Court Thursday night and sentenced to life imprisonment in the State penitentiary. He was charged with killing his sweetheart, Rita May Goss, Feb. 14, two hours before they were to have been married.

Formal sentence will be passed by Judge Crump Saturday. It was indicated.

The early verdict was a complete surprise to the many court spectators, who expected long deliberation. Few of the hundreds who crowded the tabernacle, which served as a courtroom, were on hand when the jury reported.

Higdon seemed greatly relieved when the jury's recommendation for life imprisonment was read. He had nothing to say, except that he did not know whether his attorneys would ask for a new trial or whether they would appeal his case. His counsel, likewise, gave no indication of what their next step would be.

In connection with the Higdon trial it was brought out that the death sentence has never been imposed in Seminole county either before or after Statehood.

Throughout the day until late in the afternoon witness after witness added bits to the tale of the rural courtship and its tragic end. Higdon himself on the witness stand told most of the story. He had known Rita May four years, he said, and had won her promise to marry him about a year ago. Their wedding was to have been on Feb. 14. Their home, which he had built, was ready.

With scarcely two hours remaining before the ceremony he went to Rita May's home, intending to go from there to the church. They were left alone. The girl told him, he said, that there was something he must know before the ceremony. It was that she expected to become a mother. The child, he declared was not his.

FARM RELIEF BILL SPONSORED BY CORN BELT SIDETRACKED

ROBINSON-OLDFIELD MEASURE ENDORSED BY CARL VROOMAN

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 12.—The presentation of the Middle Western farm relief delegation's plan to handle the agricultural surplus problem was sidetracked temporarily today while the house agricultural committee listened to the explanation of another program pending before congress.

Carl Vrooman, former assistant secretary of agriculture, endorsed the Robinson-Oldfield bill, which would establish the Farmers Export Corporation, with authority to extend credit to European buyers of surplus American crops.

He wants to know that the water it drinks is safe and free from disease germs. Public sentiment is the same about all positions filled by those working in the interest of public health. Necessity demands that they be trained men and women."

"Corsicana Has It."

GENERAL ATTORNEY FEDERAL LAND BANK PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

LEWIS ROGERS ADDRESS CORSICANA REAL ESTATE BOARD MEETING FRIDAY

By Associated Press.

The federal land bank of Houston has loaned to Texas farmers the gross sum of $132,000,000 during its nine years of operation and has never lost a dime, according to statement made by Lewis Rogers, general attorney for the bank, in a speech before the Corsicana Real Estate Board at noon Friday.

Mr. Rogers was a guest of the local board today and told the realtors of the theory and practice in the operation of the Federal Land Bank. He told of the system of money lending and discussed at length the collateral features of the bank's operations.

The board met in regular noon-day luncheon with President Chas. G. Jester presiding. Others present were W. F. Love, H. B. Bomar, secretary; Cal E. Kerr, J. Y. Roberts, president of the Navarro County Farm Loan Association; Millerman, lawyer; M. L. Moore, J. A. Millerman.

R. P. Blanding, chairman; Cal E. Kerr and W. F. Love were appointed appraisal committee, for city properties, and Ben Howard, M. L. Moore and W. F. Love were appointed an appraisal committee for farm lands.

J. H. Kerr, J. A. Millerman and H. B. Bomar were appointed membership committee. Plans for placing welcome sign boards on the several highways leading into Corsicana were furnished, and Secretary Bomar and M. L. Moore were designated to take the question up with representatives of the Lions, Rotarians, Civitans, Advertising clubs to ascertain what can be done along this line.

Mr. Rogers said the Federal Land Bank carries two misnomers, one is that it is not governed by the Federal powers any more than any banking institution, and that its affairs are checked up by government agents twice a year, and that it is not a bank, but a farm loaning institution. The Federal government appropriated $750,000 for starting the institution and that capital stock had been refunded from the interest accumulations of the bank, and the capital is now owned by Texas farmers.

The bank has been in operation nine years and has never loaned less than $800,000 in one month, and has to date loaned $132,000,000 in Texas on farm lands. The bank borrows from the government on such collateral as Liberty bonds and treasury certificates, which are bought from various banks in the State, and these are backed up by capital of the bank's assets and resold to the banks where bought, the cash is put into circulation and the reserves are put at interest. Mr. Rogers said that with the nine years' record made in collections from borrowers speaks well for the Texas farmer who borrows money to pay for his own home.

Mr. Rogers said it was a pleasure to talk to realtors who are a community asset, and rapped the unscrupulous shysters real estate agents who are a liability to the community. He examines and passes on all titles to lands in which a loan is being negotiated. In passing he mentioned that the Navarro County Farm Loan Association is the largest one of its kind in the South, with only one larger in the entire United States.

Mr. Rogers spoke concerning the cotton crop and said the Federal Land Bank just this morning loaned a million dollars on cotton stored in Houston. This cotton, he said, is to be worked off ahead of the 1926 crop, and he predicted 18,000,000 bales of cotton this fall, and sounded a timely warning that cotton acreage be decreased in order that the price might not be deflated with hard financial times.

In discussing farm labor organizations the speaker said there had not yet been any farm organizations that have been of a permanent nature, that they have fallen from one of three causes, and sometimes from all. The lack of efficient financing, leadership and the indulgence in politics he attributed to the failure of farm organizations. Such organizations have always lacked cohesion because of the American spirit of individualism, which exists more among farmers than any other American class. The lack of efficient financing is a very important cause, and the membership almost invariably fall out over politics, he explained. The farm loan associations have been a boon to financing farmers paying for lands and improving lands, he said, and the important thing for farmers this year is less cotton and more food and feed, increased unit production and a variety of products with higher standards of quality.

Mr. Rogers paid his respects to the Texas Homestead Law, which he said is a hobby with him, and that it ought to be amended to exempt it from mortgage. This would allow a homesteader to mortgage his home for financing his business. He declared it is not a protection to the widow of a deceased homesteader in the same way mortgage it to pay debts, but when man and wife are living it cannot be, and also the law defines a rural homestead as 200 acres of land regardless of its value. One man may own 200 acres worth several hundred dollars per acre, and another man may own a like number of acres worth one dollar an acre. This makes the law without uniformity, and neither can under the law

GREENVILLE TURNED FRANCHISE OVER TO EAST TEXAS LOOP

ACTION IS TAKEN AFTER STORMY SESSION SUNDAY AFTERNOON

By Associated Press.

Greenville, March 15.—Following a stormy session of the stockholders here Sunday afternoon, it was voted to turn the Greenville franchise and players of the club over to the officials of the East Texas League. A matter of a few hundred dollars in financing the club for the approaching season proved the stumbling block.

It was estimated that $6,000 would finance the club for the season. Committees had secured subscriptions amounting to approximately $5,000 and six stockholders had offered to put up $100 each, but when the additional $400 was not forthcoming it was voted to turn over the club to the league.

President T. H. Fisher of Paris, who was present at the meeting, was reluctant to take over the franchise and announced that he would call a meeting of the league at an early date to determine what would be done in the matter.

The action of the local officials was unexpected as the club did not owe but $600 and $2,000 was expected early next month in payment for Johnny Martin.

The officials of the Tyler Trojans of the East Texas League had already decided to give the veteran George (General) Jackson, first sacker, his release so that he could become the manager of the Greenville club this season.

No intimation has been given from the officials of the East Texas League as to the action to be taken in the Greenville matter.

In honor of Mrs. T. J. Adams on her fortieth birthday, Feb. 23, 1926, about 9 a. m. the cars began to arrive with baskets filled with all kinds of good eats which filled two large tables which fairly groaned under its weight, which consisted of roast, chicken, dressing, ham, salads of all kinds, pickles, banana puddings, pies, and ten lovely cakes and hot coffee.

She was much surprised when they began to arrive and more so when they began to bring their well-filled baskets, and wondering what it all meant. She received several nice presents.

There were present Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Adams and grandson, J. B. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Adams and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Adams and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gunter and son of Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Adams and family, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fields and baby, Mr. and Mrs. George Adams of Corsicana, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Anderson and family of Emhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bunch and Loyd, also Thelbert Bell of Corbett, and Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. W. C. Anderson.

They were entertained in the afternoon by music and singing which was very much enjoyed after which they all returned home wishing Mrs. Adams many happy birthdays.

CHARGES RETURNED AGAINST MANY FOR ALLEGED CONSPIRACY

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 15.—An indictment naming 112 persons in an alleged bootleg alcohol conspiracy was returned by the federal grand jury here today.

The document, which is probably the longest ever returned by a federal grand jury, charges over 100 acts, and includes millionaires, real estate men, and manufacturers, railroad employees, warehousemen, government employees and bootleggers in twelve cities.

They are charged with conspiring to violate the national prohibition laws by dealing in, hauling and storing illicit alcohol.

mortgage his land. In favoring an amendment making it legal to float a mortgage on a homestead for improving the property or financing a farming business, the speaker declared that it should remain exempt from execution, and in that way the proper protection would be given the widow and the husband could encourage the property for its benefit while he lived. Mr. Rogers declared that interest rates had been decreased considerably since the Federal Land Bank has been in operation, and that money is much cheaper, and that farm loans are being made now at 4 1-2 per cent.

Dinner was served by the management of the Navarro Coffee Shop. The next meeting will be held March 26.

TRAPPING QUAIL FOR PROPAGATION PURPOSES GOING ON

LARGE NUMBER WILL BE SHIPPED FROM BORDER SECTION OF STATE

By Associated Press.

San Antonio, Texas, March 12.—The annual trapping and shipping of Bob White quail for propagation purposes is now in progress along the border from Del Rio to Brownsville, and this season's shipments are expected to number from 40,000 to 45,000 birds.

Exporting of the quail began the middle of February and will continue until the last of April. The first week's shipments totaled 9,000 quail, most of which went to other parts of Texas and to nearby southern states where the weather is mild. As spring approaches in such states as Kentucky, Maryland and Pennsylvania, the fowls will be sent there, to be distributed by game wardens.

Quail are plentiful this year near the border, particularly in Mexico, said W. Thompson of the San Antonio office of the animal industry bureau of the federal department of agriculture. He explained that the Mexicans are not particularly keen for hunting and therefore the birds live and propagate in comparative safety.

Because of the large number of Bob Whites, Mr. Thompson expected this spring's shipments to set a record. The early exports were large and were expected to be large for several weeks, although they diminish greatly the last month when it becomes more difficult to trap the birds.

Trapping of the quail is done chiefly by Mexicans, who work for the importers. The importers in turn are asked for a certain number of birds by the game department of the various states interested. The bureau of animal industry certifies the shipments, but takes no active part in the work.

Duties, Mexican and American, on each pair of quail amount to 50 cents, Mr. Thompson said.

The early shipments are going to Oklahoma, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana and those sections of Texas where quail are few.

The border quail, however, offer a considerable distance, and to Illinois and Iowa as well as the East.

Exports last year amounted to 20,000 quail and in 1924 to 38,000.

SALE JEFFERSON JIMPLECUTE BRINGS MEMORIES OF PAST

THIRD OLDEST PAPER IN TEXAS HAD BEEN IN ONE FAMILY 61 YEARS

By Associated Press.

Jefferson, Texas, March 12.—The word "Jimplecute" is a name to juggle with, for it was made by the juggling of words and its history is that of a time when fate juggled with the life and death of a city.

All kinds of memories have been stirred up in Jefferson by the transfer of the Jefferson Jimplecute to its new owners from the family which owned it for 61 years. The Jefferson Jimplecute, third oldest paper in Texas, is to become modern, just as Jefferson, the former gem of the lake, is becoming modern. But the strange name has a way of pulling the residents back into the past, to the day when commerce rode on Caddo Lake and Jefferson thought it was big enough to snub a railroad.

Manufactured out of a collection of ideas, the word has caused much guessing as to its linguistic ancestry, and when Miss M. I. Taylor, who has been editor of the Jimplecute since her father gave it to her in 1894, turned the paper over to the Marshall News-Messenger Publishing Company, the guessing and the questions about the name were renewed.

As far back as 1875, Ward Taylor, who founded the paper, felt compelled to publish a pamphlet explaining the origin of the word. In this he said:

"Since the compilation of the word 'Jimplecute,' the curious, the thoughtless, the thoughtful, the learned, and the unlearned, have been curious to know the significance of the word. The linguist of renown has failed to find any trace of the word in any language, live or dead."

"We have at last decided to place before our readers an origin of the word and let those who have characterized the word as meaningless see how wrong they were. We doubt if there is a name carried by the entire newspaper fraternity that has more significance than the Jimplecute. It is a friend of all the elements that build up the country. It is absolutely free from politics. It is a friend of labor, likewise capital. It advocates industry and greatest of all advocates friendship and unity between every interest."

"When written the Jimplecute reads as follows:

Join Industry Manufacturing Planting Labor Energy Capital (in) Unity Together Everlastingly.

"We have with pride and satisfaction the explanation of the word that has so long been slandered as being meaningless and unpronounceable. To all such, the Jimplecute sends its greetings and in the kindest spirit says, 'He who laughs last, laughs best.'"

But Jefferson apparently did not build its future on the sentiment of the word, because when the Texas and Pacific railroad came along residents of the city refused to permit the tracks to enter the town. The railroad passed up Jefferson and made other cities prosperous. In those days Jefferson had a population of 30,000 and enjoyed a lively water traffic with New Orleans. The latest census gives it 2,800.

The town is undergoing a regeneration, however, and appears to be returning to its former prosperity. On March 1 a "progress banquet" was held at the city hall, and building and the Jimplecute will occupy new quarters and will become a semi-weekly.

LOCAL GUARD UNITS BEING INSPECTED BY REGULAR ARMY MAN

Captain Alpha Brumage, United States Army, instructor for the 131st Field Artillery, Texas National Guard, is in Corsicana for the purpose of inspecting the local field artillery units of the Texas National Guard.

Captain Brumage arrived in Corsicana Saturday morning from Kereks, where he completed the inspection of Battery E, 132nd Field Artillery.

The inspection of the local units will be completed on Monday evening when Battery D, 132nd Field Artillery, will assemble in its armory. Headquarters Battery, 132nd Field Artillery, was inspected Sunday evening.

Captain Brumage has been high in his praise of the local units. He is accompanied by Sergeant Steve Zasada, assistant instructor of the 132nd Field Artillery. Others present at the inspection of the local organizations are Colonel Charles A. Davis, commanding officer of the 131st Field Artillery; Captain L. E. Boren, instructor 132nd Field Artillery; First Lieutenant Garrett B. Drummond, Liaison Officer, 132nd Field Artillery, and Captain Hal C. FORMER CORSICANA CITIZEN SENDS CHECK CHAMBER COMMERCE

JOHN W. CARPENTER SAYS GOOD ROADS OUTSTANDING NEED FOR CITY

By Associated Press.

The first contribution to the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce 1926 budget campaign was received Monday from John W. Carpenter, Dallas, vice president and general manager for the Texas Power & Light Company.

Mr. Carpenter sent in his check for $100 and the budget raising campaign will be put on March 22-23.

Mr. Carpenter, in a letter to W. H. Hastings chairman of the campaign, points out several interesting facts in connection with the community welfare of Corsicana and Navarro county, and refers particularly to the need of good roads.

"I will always be deeply interested in the progress and development of Corsicana and Navarro county," says Mr. Carpenter, and adds that his dearest friends in the world live here and expresses a thought that Corsicana people are made up of the highest type of American citizens.

"I am always glad to do whatever I can to help the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, and I am attaching my check for $100," the letter reads.

Continuing the letter is quoted as follows:

"I have just one suggestion to offer to the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, as follows:

"My business takes me pretty well all over Texas, and it is my opinion that Corsicana is suffering more than any town in Texas anywhere near its size for the lack of suitable roads and highways leading into it."

"The merchants of Corsicana are losing thousands of dollars in trade due to the poor highway facilities in and out of Corsicana."

"The company with which I am connected is spending large sums of money at Trinidad, which would be a suitable river crossing at Trinidad and with a highway into Corsicana make possible the expenditure by the several hundred men engaged there of a large part of their pay roll. This improvement is a permanent improvement and will grow to much larger proportions. There will be a substantial payroll there."

"Permanent hard-surfaced roads leading south through Angus, Richland, Currie, which would be in close proximity to the oil fields, would pay handsome returns to those who put their tax money into roads. The same would apply on a hard surfaced road leading westward through Corbett, Jester, Purdon, Dawson to the Hill County line, and also to Blooming Grove. Road in that direction, to the county line, as well as a road leading northward toward Dallas, I think, however, that these roads leading to industrial centers, which would make it easy for the oil field and industrial workers to get into Corsicana to do their trading and shopping, are of especial importance to the merchants of Corsicana; and I think that the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, for the year 1926, could well put as its first and most important activity that of settling its highway question by building at least two paved highways across Navarro county through Corsicana (more if possible), but at least building one highway from Trinidad, paralleling the Cotton Belt Railroad, to the county line between Dawson and Hubbard City, and building another paved highway from the county line near Currie, paralleling the H. & T. C. railroad, north to the county line; also building one other paved highway from Corsicana, paralleling the Cotton belt railroad to the county line west of Frost."

"If these highways are built, they will, in my opinion, pay handsome returns to all of the people who pay taxes on property in Navarro county."

Atlas Loan Concern

Will Open for Business

The Atlas Plan Company, capitalized for $100,000, to make loans purely on the basis of character, will open for business Monday at 1421 Commerce street under the active management of John M. Watson.

J. Kirby McDonough is president, Rush Wofford, of Corsicana, C. F. Hortenstein and John W. Wright of Dallas and J. B. Fortson, Corsicana vice presidents, and J. T. Fortson, Corsicana, as treasurer. The company has been organized by Vice President Hortenstein, who has been identified for many years with industrial finance corporations in Dallas and elsewhere. He expects to use the Dallas business as the first of a system of similar firms, choosing Dallas because of its importance as a financial center.

"While an entirely new institution, the Atlas plan of operation is similar to that of other industrial loan systems," said Mr. Hortenstein. "It incorporates, however, new and attractive features for the accommodation of its patrons not found elsewhere; it is an old and tested plan much advanced and improved. The purpose is to make loans on the basis of character without red tape or delay to those who would otherwise be unable to take advantage of investment opportunities, or who require temporary financial relief as a matter of expediency. We expect to extend the benefits of the Atlas plan throughout the South and beyond as rapidly as occasion permits."—Dallas News.

CORSICANA VISITED BY SNOW AND SLEET SUNDAY MORNING

OBSERVERS REPORT COLD
FAILED TO DAMAGE FRUIT AND VEGETATION

For a time Sunday morning there was rain, sleet and snow falling at the same time in Corsicana. The snow and sleet, however, melted as fast as it fell. The temperature was considerably cooler Saturday night and Sunday. The moisture adds that much to the fine season already in the ground.

The cold was not extreme enough to do damage to fruit or plants, in the opinion of weather observers. The warmth today promises to open up a season of fast growing weather, which will be fine on planted corn, gardens, fruits and flowers. Likely with a few days of sunshine spring will be in evidence with the green growth on every hand.

In Memoriam.

J. M. Cook, aged 68 years, died at his home on West Fifteenth avenue on February 13, 1926.

Again the death angel has visited the earth and this time it carried with it the gentle spirit of J. M. Cook. He had been sick only a few short days, when God saw fit to take him home. All was done that loving hands could do. God's will be done, not ours. We only could stand by his bedside and see him leave us here with a broken heart. Oh, how sad and lonely we are! He was laid to rest in Hamilton cemetery Feb. 13, at 4 o'clock. His home is now a lonely place. No one to use his chair. Papa was always busy. He said the greatest pleasure he had was reading his papers and working his garden. He always had a kind, sweet smile for everybody. He could not talk before he died to tell us one thing, he said he wanted to talk but could not.

Oh, it is so hard to give him up. A sweet, still voice to never be heard anymore, and home don't seem like home without sweet papa.

He was always glad to see us come home and tried to make home pleasant when we came.

Soon we will come to meet you, papa, and we will never part again.

Spirit Superior to Infirmities of Age

The late Senator Page of Vermont once said at a banquet in Montpelier during his governorship:

"For pluck, give me your Vermont farmer every time. Old Jerome McDade, though seventy-three, was hale and hearty, and one day when his two sons got to bragging about their strength Jerome swore he could load hay as fast as they could pitch it."

"So down to the fields they went, and Jerome got in a hay wagon with his fork, and the two boys began to pitch the hay up to him fast and furious."

"Jerome worked like a demon, and all the time he kept yelling down in a jeering way, 'More hay! More hay!'"

"But after a time, of course, his years began to tell on him. His loading got very untidy. The sun felt hotter and hotter on his back. Still, as he staggered about he kept yelling 'More hay! More hay!'"

Then all of a sudden he tripped and fell out of the wagon.

"As he picked himself up, very spry, from off the ground, one of the boys gave a laugh and said:

"What do you want down here, papa?"

"What do I want?" jeered Jerome. "Why, more hay, more hay."

CORSICANA MAN MAY BE HEIR TO VAST NEW YORK ESTATE

According to information received by E. W. Warnell of this city, there is a possibility of his being one of the heirs to what is known as the Edwards estate which includes property in the heart of Manhattan the value of which will reach many millions of dollars.

Several days ago Dr. J. M. Warnell of Blum, Texas, brother of E. W. Warnell received a letter from a New York attorney seeking the direct descendants of the late Edwards. According to the records it is indicated that Edwards was the great grandfather of the Warnell brothers.

Although it is not yet known whether the Warnell brothers will prove to be the heirs an investigation is now in progress and a thorough probing of old records will be made.

SAYS REPUBLICANS WILL LOSE UNLESS THEY AID FARMERS

CORN BELT AGRICULTURALISTS MAKE THREATS IN REGARD LEGISLATION

Associated Press.

Washington, March 12.—Another rumble of threatened political trouble in the corn belt was heard Thursday by the House Agricultural Committee, which is conducting hearings on a farm relief bill.

William Hirth of Missouri, chairman of the corn belt committee sent to Washington by Middle Western farm organizations, told the committee bluntly that the Republican party would be held to account if it failed to enact suitable farm relief legislation. He added that though the chief responsibility lay with the majority, we have the right to expect help of Democrats in congress.

He then quoted an extract from the Republican platform of 1924 pledging the party to "enactment of measures which will place the agricultural interests on a basis of equality with other industries to insure its prosperity and success."

"Possibly," he continued, "those who wrote this resolution did not expect it to be taken seriously by the farmers—possibly it was intended to be nothing more than political apple sauce—but some millions of farm men and women did take it seriously and voted for Mr. Coolidge and for Republican members of Congress in the belief that it was a solemn pledge, and that it would be faithfully kept."

Those who regard lightly the recent farm relief conferences at Des Moines, he said, "will do so at their peril."

"If we are once more sent away empty-handed," he continued, "or if congress attempts to meet this profoundly grave situation with a mere meaningless palliative, there will be a day of reckoning."

A Wonderful Farewell Address

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson for March 14, 1926.

Read John 14 to 17.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

LAST WORDS OF JESUS WITH HIS DISCIPLES.

Text of Lesson, John 14:1-17.

1 Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

2 In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest, and how can we know the way?

6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

7 If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also; and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself; but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me, or else believe me for the very works' sake.

12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto the Father.

13 And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye shall ask anything in my name, I will do it.

15 If ye love me, keep my commandments.

16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever.

17 Even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

The Golden Text—"I am the way, and the truth, and the life."—John 14:6.

Not long ago a distinguished Jewish Rabbi in New York stirred up much discussion and prejudice by saying that Jesus was no mere mythical, legendary vision, but was a very real and very wonderful man and a historical character. His words rang over the nation and evoked sharp comment everywhere.

Not only has Jesus been relegated to the mythical and the legendary by Jews, but many Christians have even thought that way about Him. Of course, should the question be put up to us in that form we would indignantly deny any such thought, but as a matter of fact we have almost so considered Him. We have been so familiar with the Bible teachings and the interpretations of teachers of our own denomination in the language of by-gone days that we do not realize that Jesus lived and walked and loved and taught here on earth and that he moved among men and women, ate with them and touched them. That He was a man even as we are men and women.

I would like to picture to you a scene which took place one night in Jerusalem, the night Jesus was betrayed and arrested and carried to His death. He and his disciples were gathered together in an upper room, rented for the purpose. They had just finished supper. If there had been cigars and cigarettes and chairs at that time they would have pushed back their chairs, lighted the tobacco and been at ease. All eyes were turned toward Jesus and he began to talk to them. It was His farewell address and is given nowhere as John gives it in the lesson we are studying today.

Jesus told them that He was to be killed, that the time had arrived. Then they protested, they crowded about Him and begged Him not to say it. Peter even went further, as the text will show.

Jesus quieted them very gently for His heart was full. They were deeply interested now, no longer were they relaxing as from a feast, and they crowded about him. There were only eleven of them, for Judas had left on his mission.

Then Jesus told them not to be disturbed. He would come again and finally they should all join Him where He was going. He said, "I go to reserve a room for each of you."

The disciples wanted to know where He was going and how they would get there. Some of them, no doubt, wanted to go with Him. We are that way. When a loved one dies we wish that we could die too. Many have given up under such circumstances. But the brave thing is to carry on and time gives us many chances to be of use, and bring hope again to our hearts.

"Let not your hearts be troubled," said Jesus. That is asking too much of poor human souls, torn and tried with grief. Yet it means that God will take care of the future, no use to worry about it. I wish we could get that idea into our heads for every day use. God is on the job and He will see that everything is all right.

"If you love me you will follow my teachings," He did not say, "Thou shalt not" as so many fathers and mothers say to their children with no explanation, no loving sympathy. "Thou shalt not" be, cause I, your father, said it. That is the very poorest way to teach children in the world. If we can teach our children that the booze and the reckless speed and the wild abuse of themselves will ruin these beautiful bodies of theirs, it will be a much more effective lesson than many "Thou Shalt Not's."

If we love a person we are more than willing to let that one teach us and to follow such teachings. Jesus appealed to His disciples, "If you love me," he said.

It is not hard to understand what He meant then when he said I am the Way, said Jesus. All we have to do to get to heaven is to use ordinary wisdom and follow the sign posts He has set for us. Here is a twig broken on a tree and it means that He passed that way. It is the tree of truth. Here is a poor family which has been helped. It means He has passed this way and is marked unselfishness and we know we are on the right track. Here is a cross road but at one side stands a man who says "Once I was blind but now I see," and we know that Jesus has turned that way and we are still on the right track.

This farewell address was indeed a wonderful address. In it he compressed all His teachings. He told them to be good citizens to obey the laws, to love one another, to forget self and that if you follow His teachings you will love God. It is sometimes hard for us to understand an abstract command to love a God whom we do not know and whom we never saw, a mythical mysterious God. But this we can do. We can follow the teachings of Jesus while He was a man as we are and if we do that we love God.

The disciples did not understand all this that night. They listened much as we often listen to an eloquent preacher and much of what he says passes over our heads. But they understood it afterward. They began to understand that night when He was arrested, they began to see more clearly and remember His last talk, when he hung on the cross. They again remembered when He appeared to them after the resurrection.

And when John was very old when all the other disciples were dead, when Paul had become a Christian and had done his work and had died, John wrote the words of the farewell address of Jesus in that upper room the night He was betrayed.

John could not have written it the day after. He could not have understood it the following year. Things open for us with the years and we begin to understand. We expect too much of young Christians.

I would have you vision the scene in that upper room after supper, the eleven crowding about Jesus listening to Him as he talked. I would have you remember that He was no mythical, no legendary character. And then put yourself in that room and read over again the words of Jesus in His farewell address.

There you will find love, service, unselfishness, faith, knowledge, and the way to the Christian's heaven. —The Republic Syndicate.

YOUNG MALE HOMING PIGEON MAKES TRIP FROM SAN ANTONIO

A nine months old male homing pigeon belonging to W. W. Hedrick, 1198 South Seventeenth street, negotiated a flight from San Antonio, a distance of 350 miles, in about 24 hours. The pigeon was taken to San Antonio by Earl Wimberley in a closed car, checking up the distance by the car speedometer, and released at 9:50 o'clock Thursday morning. The carrier pigeon arrived at home about the same hour Friday morning, bearing the written message from Mr. Wimberley, which gave the hour of release and the distance to be traveled.

This is the first long trial flight the young bird has made, but has made several short flights successfully. He will be given another trial flight from El Paso soon.

A considerable north pale and heavy damp atmosphere probably made the flight longer than it would have been in light, fair weather.
